Stugen is the ministry of a commontry, und where they abound great cities rise and flourish and great men come to hysical and mental perfection. Look at the Hudson river which has always been noted for singgen. See the cities of Albany, froy and Founghkeepen, to say nothing of New York, on its but is, and ponder on this grantic intellects of B ii. Tweed, kdward is keep and Billy Methory, to say nothing of lev. R. B R. Burchard. And then look at the C lumbar river, the sturgeon of which sarpsess in breach her force her, brilliar cy of methet cannot wast mensure the sturgeon of any other stream. And then look at Perkind and Asteria. Modesty forbods mention of the brainy men produced by a bed of these incomparable fish. Fuget sound might as well shut up the fish traps if there is no stuggen there. The unfo turbe high whose death is noticed thore was, it is under stood, an unnignmit from the Columbia, who rade over from Kalama on a brake brain of a Northern Larrie car to take a look at the Sound and dad of disgust. Stargen is understood and valued in many lands. In Rissa and Faghrind it is a road fish, being sout of a world, a fiesh and a dayl of a communition. Here the surgeon comprises within their a quint sele of fishes, being served up as sea bass, hallo it and turbot. When whole it is sturgen, when dirided among restaurants it becomes any one of the three other fish named—you pays your money and you take a your choice.

DR HURTS LECTURE.

A luge and intelligent anothence assembled in it e room of the chapet of the Unitarian church preferding evening to listen to a lecture in the social functions on the "Physical and Mental Fredintion of the Human Race." The word evolution is only another word for "growth," and he theme so phrased involves a simple consideration of how the human organism grows in body and in mind. The sociological indeest of the question is that as we indeestand the laws governing the development of the individual and in brain, we are providing the principles which can be applied at large to homes, schools and public points. There is a draine order of growth, which through importance or perversity in any legislawarted, and the earlier the stages in which perversion takes place, the more marked a ethe exil results through the whole life. There is an intimate and inviserious union between mind and body which we cannot penetrate. We can only note its phenomena, and the effects given or taken by the surrounding conditions. Correspondingly minemes in the laws of food, affecting growth from without and from within. The history of the individual in the servespects reflects the generic history of the lecturer, after defining many of the terms.

THE EXPECTED PERMITS OF GOLD

E W Waliace

And & in the steering.

Any core and all fately about the hourding of gold for the sake of the ortenaturd it will command when silver displaces the a maniferiary standard. It is assumed that the premium will rise immediately to nearly the present difference between the bullion silue of the silver dollar and that of the gold dollar—say about 10 per cent. If this is what the prospective hoarders are counting upon they are documed to disappointment.

Manifestly whatever gold is willidrawd from the money market for the purpose of being hearded campet be lent out on interest. If it was thus lent it would et once go back into the mathet, and would cease to be hourted. The only possible profit to be derived from it would be from selling it largain bout who is to braylit our own people will no want if, for they could not use if as manney, except at its legal value, any more than largy could use represent it in only their own gold, or their indication of $2,000, $300 and in the month to our stock of silver dollars, the manifety of such dollars in use sufficed for the needs of rade and allowed gold to be dispensed with altogether. This will happen eventually, no doubt, but into resone years yet, and in the meanwhile the interest lost on the hoarded gold will mare than offset the profits to be derived from any possible premium on it.

The suspension of gold payment has occurred over and over again in France daring, the put ten years, and yet the remium on gold there has never at any time exceeded one-half of i per cent. The millions of silver legal-tender 5-franc paces of that country are worth less proportionately to the gold before any one of the perite of the particular of gold dollars. Every time there is a demand for gold for export time bank of france stops paying out gold and pays nothing but silver dollars at prepared to the worn as to be worth less than terf face. Yet gold bullion commards there only 3 per thou sond premium or ky of the rent considerable.

It is quite possible, and oven probable, but Flentylof Water found in the Channel Made Last Yea-Should ' he W deaed?

Activation of the council committee on dreliger confesting of Meetrs Holland, An drus and Heland but on the tendent went down to Swan Beand but on the tender Hermana where soundings were make of the channel cut last year by the city's dredge bout. The lead where soundings were made of the channel cut last year by the city's dredge bont. The lead was cast very carefully from the upper to the lower beacon, and the shortest cast was a triffe frest bin twenth four feet. The gauge yester day lead the soundings showed that the new channel had been maintained intact and that the slight winter freshe is in the Williametts had affected it so little is to be almost imperceptible. In pinds impressed on the members of the central the fact that the channel in front of the four mill wharf at thom was been narrow. Then is nothing new in this. It would be better if the channel at the point mentioned were four feet was insisted of 100 feet. It was a mistace to allow the construction of the wharf which et coucha it closely on deep water not only on deep water but on the line of the strong current which helps to maintain the channel. Whenever it has pens if it in a vessels are moored side by side at the wharf there is parely enough room for another reseal with a town to pass, but there is enough room with careful hundling only one vessel got allowant the channel last season, and now had the heaviest time for foreign shipments is rast, there may be no need for doubling vessels at it is wharf It will undoubledly be much letter for priots if the channel is widened opposite the smil, and perhaps it will be done.

Whither the city is justified at this time in driving on the Williamette river fund is a de batal le question. The sum of $11,000 has been allotted from this vear's key for the improvement of the river. There is now ample depth of water, and it is not probable that there will be a *Tower stage before September. The present channel though not as convenient as it could be made, is by far the best ever known, and will answer all purposes. Perhaps near fail the need for improving the river will be more urgent, and the city must depend on herself, congress having falled to pass the river and harbor bill. It may be that Postoffice bar and the mouth of the Williamette will need some work, and it will be the part of prudence to keep the fund latact.

Anachronistic

I rom the Arkens is fracel r

Now that Mr. Howells has made anachronism popular, the country may look for improvement in literature. The following is a selection from a future novel. "When Gregory aross the sun was brightly shining. The cold wind and the diffting arow chilled him, and taking off his coat to enjoy the fresh air, he blew his frozen nose and raked the perspiration from his recking brow. There was no time to be lost, and Gregory burried coward. When he reached the river he was puzzled. There was no boot in sight, and he knew not how to cross. The August sun beat ferosty down, and standing on the burning sands, oregory failed to enjoy himself. After awhile a bright idea struck him. He would cross on the ice. He heaved a sigh of relief when he reached the opposite shore. This country was beautiful. As far as the eye could reach there was of the rich grass of the prairie. Stopping under a large oak tree whose leaves waved an invitation, Gregory took an ax from his pocket and began to chop wood. The coating of sleet flew at every stroke. When he had kindled a fire and broiled an oyster which he had kindled a fire and broiled an oyster which he had kindled a fire and broiled an oyster which he had shade and sank to sleep. How long he stept he knew not. He was mailened by a rain storm. Risting, he continued his course over the parched desert."

show that twelve principal states that produced a per cent. of the wheat grop of 1884 now have stocks equal to 32 per cent of their production. Fairmares for the remaining portion of the wountry show a total of 2,000 000 bushels, which makes in agargate of 162,000 000 bushels of wheat which compares with 113 000 000 bushels a 242 a.g. o according to the Price Current estimates 120 000 000 bushels as reported by the department of agriculture. In adopting the latter it is shown that the entire wheat stocks of the country, embracing the visible supply aggregate 30,000,000 bushels compared with 180 000 000 a year ago. Including the equivalent of wheat represented in flour in the country the total is 243 000 000 bushels compared with 185 000,000 a year ago, stocks of flour belog signal to 38 000 mb bushels they year, against 45 000 000 a year 000,000 a year ago, stocks of flour being squal to as 600 000 a year ago. This estimate will appear as far exceeding in magnitude of fluores but it must be remembered that it nadudes all us farmers hunds, which is not the assueral cuspon in presenting visible supply fluores. That stocks in sight or believed to be available exert marked influence in determining market changes is not to be questioned. London and Liverpool circulars are continually referring to our 'enormous' or unprecedented visible supply which they frequently permit to depress praces abroad, their inference being that this visible supply is it large of small, is of necessity pressing for an outlet alread. Frobably there will not soon some a time when figures of visible supply will be necepted as goopel truth, and I may be for the hest that continued doubt exist, as the ory of hige surpluses tends to hold back offerings from other countries. The visible supply of wheat in the I nited States, at all lake, seaboard and principal storage poliuts, as compiled by the Chicage board of trade, February 28, was 48 440 506 highely against 47,811,000 bushels one wook previous, and 34,911,321 bushels a year ago. Arrivals included almost all classes, grocery grades being largest. It would appear that Portland merchants were not reaching out for far away trade. However, there are few that desire it as it needs more watching than carriul sellers care to give it. Besides they are not greatly given to throwing out baits or granting doubtful credits. There is much of this distant trade that is desirable but the larger buyers obtain rather better facilities in other markets than they can get here. Portland cannot compete in many staple lines with San Francisco. New trade comes slowly onless there is yiolent changes in modes of transportation. It is difficult to see where Portland is losing any desirable ground and it is an individual opinion that she has kept up very well in the face of recent events. The Spockace and neighboring country has for months past been very slow in buying. Portland sends less there because there is less to send.
